ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Concert at 8, grand march at 9 at Central Athletic club ball at Olympic hall tonight.

Every user of a Crawford range is a sponsor. M. Hourigan's claim is that other ranges do not respond to three dampers as the Crawford does to a single damper. Full lines of ranges and floor coverings are shown at the big store, 42-66 Main street.

BREED THEATER.

"Saved by the Wireless," Big Moving Picture of the Republic Disaster.

Sensational and thrilling in the extreme is the mammoth moving picture of the Republic disaster being shown at the Breed theater the remainder of this week, covering all the incidents of the famous collision, and the work before and after. The interior of the telegraph stations on the land and on the big steamers are clearly shown, especially when the great wireless signal of distress is flashed. The flashing of the signal on the receiving board and the subsequent haste relative to getting assistance to the ill-fated steamer is fully represented; the collision in the fog, the excitement following, the saving of the passengers, the receiving of the message on the Baltic, and the captain giving orders to turn about and go to the rescue, as well as the sinking of the Republic, are all incidents in this great picture. Jack Binn, the operator on the Republic, is shown at his desk, sending the famous signal of distress, C. Q. D., that resulted in the saving of every soul aboard the Republic. The sinking of the big steamer is shown with assisting boats all around search light, and this marvelous picture is brought to a close by showing the rescued crew reaching New York, also a close view of Jack Binn in his typical mood. Many other great pictures are also shown, among them being "The Skipper's Daughters," "The Politician's Love Story," "The Golden Louis," "Tag Day," and "Bring Me Some Tea."

Madame Morelle is making a big hit with her new illustrated song, "By the Old Oak Gate," while her captivating waltz song, "The Kiss," is a winner.
Mr. Delaney is singing the pathetic little song, "There's Another Picture in My Mamma's Frame," with splendid success.

AT BROADWAY THEATER.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

A new picture machine has been installed at the Broadway which produces a picture for size and clearness has never before been equalled in this city. The pictures, together with the vaudeville, are so arranged as to make a well balanced show, in fact, it is the equal of those put on at any of the Keith or Poli houses in the larger cities. It is a well known fact that three of the acts, which have been away at this theater have just completed a season of forty weeks over the United Booking time. Nothing but financial success is bound to come to the present management if this week's show is the criterion of what is to follow at this popular playhouse.

Roderick Theater.

Large audiences attended all performances at the Roderick yesterday, and it was decided by all the best performance as yet. The beautiful picture, "Love's Sweetest," held the deep interest of all, dealing with a young couple being deeply in love with one another, and while in their short dream, made short by the interference of the young lady's father, played a sweet melody together on a piano and flute. The girl while on a tour through Europe always heard the melody in every country and on arriving home was forced to marry by her father. The rebuke to a congress place when while on her way to the church she is met by her lover, and he walks up to the altar instead of her father's choice. Another powerful, dramatic film that took well was "A Drama in a Circus." Hunting is a genuine reproduction of the jungle and is something new, being very interesting, while "The Skull Sentinel" furnishes plenty of humor. Miss Hefner, the local soprano, made a decided hit singing "Harry Lauder's I Love a Lassy," while Mr. O'Neill pleased with his march song, "Promise."

Gov. Lilley's Long Fight.

There must be a whole lot of sympathy for Gov. Lilley, who is seriously ill in Hartford. There can be no doubt that the political game, as he was forced to play it, was too much for his physical capacity. He collapsed when the hearing on the charges that he brought in connection with the submarine scandal in congress fell through. He was entirely honest in his charges, but when the crisis came the men, upon whose testimony he had built his case, refused to stand with him. The rebuke to a congress gave him sent him to his bed—a sick man. But he wanted to re-establish himself in his own state, fought out a great campaign for the nomination and a vastly more bitter one for the election last fall. Ever since his election his enemies have followed him up. But he won. The price he paid was the maximum as far as his health may be counted. Probably Gov. Lilley would rather give his life in a fight than drop out of it, without having proven that the people of his state had confidence in him.—Hartford Transcript.

The Brook.

I chase myself by ledge and shelf, through pasture and through meadow; I sometimes run in light of sun, and sometimes in the shadow; and here and there the fishers swear, because the trout are wary; and I lurk and rush and swirl, by woodland and by prairie. I wonder by the porker's sty, where microbes are abounding; I skip and flip by blacksmith's shop, with hammers loud resounding. I play and sport and rip and snort by adders and by willows; the heated cows here hold course, and cool off in my willows. I sing and trill and gladly fill the washerwoman's boilers; I amble through the shack where glue is made by scented tollers. Through gloomy fens and slaughter pens, by barnyard and by stable, I jog along with jocular song, as fast as I am able. The milkman's pail I fill with stale and germ-infested water, and give a thought as on I trot, to children marked for slaughter.—Walt Mason, in Washington Herald.

There are 1,000 motor cars registered in Bombay, and not one of them is of American make.

HOME GARMENT MAKING.

The Bulletin's Pattern Service.

MISSSES' SEMI-PRINCESS DRESS.
Paris Pattern No. 2855 — All Seams Allowed.

This simple little model has been developed from yellow ruffled cloth, but is also adaptable to any of the spring or summer materials. The waist portion has the wide tuck over the shoulder, attached to the waist line, and the revers are of the material, trimmed with narrow black lightning braid, the scarf being of black mesline. The chemise and tight undersleeves are of all-over embroidery. The attached five-gored skirt has an inverted box-pleat at the front and back, as well as over each hip, the lower edge being finished with a deep hem.
The pattern is in three sizes—12 to 17 years. For a miss of 15 years the dress requires 6 1/2 yards of material 27 inches wide, 5 1/2 yards 36 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards 42 inches wide or 3 1/2 yards 48 inches wide, as illustrated. 1/2 yard of all-over lace 18 inches wide, 1/2 yard of edging and 1 yard of ribbon for ties.
Price of pattern, 10 cents.
Order through The Bulletin Company, Pattern Dept., Norwich, Conn.

More Roosevelt Luck.

Fate seems determined to keep Roosevelt high in the people's affections, even as a private citizen. Only two days ago Harriman came out with a bitter attack on him.—Philadelphia North American.

Dr. Elliot's declaration of the office of the post at St. James is another indication that he is the "first living American" at least in that class.—Washington Post.

King Leopold offers a prize for the best essay on aerial navigation. The king is something of a high flyer himself.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Man for the Place.

There is no minister resident of the United States in Serbia. How would it do by way of compromise for President Taft to send Crazy Snake as a fit representative to the court of King Peter?—Philadelphia Record.

JUST ARRIVED AT MY STABLES
50 Horses
FROM THE LUMBER CAMPS.
I shall have two more carloads of these Lumber Horses from the White Mountains, and unless I am very much mistaken, there will be buyer here today for every horse. These Lumber Horses are a great snap for you and for me. I got them all. They are bought by the lumbermen in the fall and are worked hard all winter, and when spring comes they must be sold. I have a contract with the lumbermen that insures my getting them every year. Such horses are safe and sure bargains. They are thin from very hard work, but give them just a little show and see how quickly they will fill out. Having worked hard all winter, they are thoroughly acclimated and will start right in and work for you all summer. Price $25.00 to $100.00.
Come today and bring your money with you—for you'll surely want to buy when you see the horses. My last lot went in one day!
THREE CARLOADS OF OHIO, VERMONT AND IOWA HORSES
Aside from the two carloads of Logging Horses, I shall have three carloads of selected Horses from Ohio, Vermont and Iowa. Magnificent Draft Horses, Farm Horses, Trotters, Pacers, Carriage Horses and Grocery Horses. Carry stock, you bet—the kind of fancy stock that lumbermen and only LUMBERMEN can show you. I'm having a great success in record-breaking, in fact. But I'm delivering the goods, and my prices are manifestly fair and reasonable.

WHITE ROSE SLEPT.
In the little white room where the white rose slept
I sit alone at close of day
And dream of the fragrance fled away.
And gaze on the many petals kept
In the little white room where the white rose slept.
In the little white room where the white rose slept
A Teddy bear of bandy eye
And ragged feet of yellow dye
Among the petals sweet is kept
In the little white room where the white rose slept.
In the little white room where the white rose slept
The shadowy corner and softly play
O'er little white bed at close of day
O'er pillow white where a mother wept.
In the little white room where the white rose slept

"Why do you insist on underscoring the kind of golf you play?" "Because," answered the wife official, "there is no use of making a whole lot of people jealous and antagonistic over a little thing like golf."—Washington Star.
The Author—Well, how did you like my play? The Critic—Oh, it was very nice. The Author—Didn't you think the church scene was realistic? The Critic—Intensely so. Why, a great many of us expected to see a church while it was on.—Cleveland Leader.
The Visitor looked around. "Who is he?" he asked. "That's Jim Pettigrew. He ain't done a stroke of work for ten years. Just feels around" an' tells stories. "What's the matter with him?" "Nobin." Only some feller back in '93 told him he looked like Lincoln."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
"I hope you were a good little boy when at your aunt's and didn't tell any stories," said his mother. "Only the one you put me up to, ma," replied her young son, who hoped, "why, what do you mean, child?" "When she asked me if I'd like to have a second piece of cake I said, 'No, thank you; I've had enough.'"—Harper's Weekly.
